Ohio High Court Asked To Enter Tax Repeal Fight

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Secretary of State Ted Brown said his office would ask a Cincinnati court today to give the Ohio Supreme Court jurisdiction over a suit seeking to halt legal advertising for the income tax repeal proposal.

A delay in advertising would prevent the proposed constitutional amendment from being on the November ballot.

"The advertisements, required by state law, are to begin this week," Brown said. "They must run in every county in a newspaper of general circulation for five consecutive weeks before the election."

In addition to the Hamilton County Common Pleas Court case, court protests still are pending in 42 of Ohio's 88 counties. The Supreme Court could move all of those into its own jurisdiction.

Meanwhile, a leader of the repeal movement, Rep. Robert Netzley, R-7 Laura, said he was confident the issue will be on the November ballot.

"I am optimistic about it," he said. "They have tried everything to stop us but it didn't work."

Brown agreed. "I don't see how they can stop it," he said. "It's too late now — they have the signatures and that's what it's all about."

Because of signatures invalidated by Brown and local election boards, repeal forces will be short of the 318,000 signatures required to get the proposal on the ballot.

But they will be given 10 days to get additional signatures on supplemental petitions after Brown certifies the exact amount of shortage Wednesday.

Browns last count showed repeal advocates were short 19,296 signatures, but he said that figure would be lowered when 13 petitions sent to the wrong counties are checked by the proper boards of election.

Repeal leaders are prepared to start circulating the supplemental petitions and say they hope to garner more than 100,000 names.

The proposed amendment would repeal the tax as of next Jan. 1 and require that no similar tax be adopted without a vote of the people.

The tax, 5 to 3.5 per cent on individuals and 4 to 8 per cent on corporations, was enacted by the legislature late last year.

Civilians Join Police In Indy

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indianapolis Police Department, which for four years has invited any interested "civilian" to ride as an observer in a police car, terms the project "highly successful."

Police Chief Winston L. Churchill, who started the program, said the practice allows civilians to "better understand the police, their problems and also what goes on in the city."

Churchill estimated that police receive from 15 to 20 riders on weekend nights, with about 6-12 during the week.

"It helps us know what people are thinking," Churchill said, "and it lets people know what the police are doing."

The chief added, "I have really had great comments on the program from people. I think this program is helping us tremendously. It is very, very successful."

Churchill said that a rider must sign a waiver before getting into the police car, and parents must sign the waiver for underage riders.

The only requirement is that riders "have good personal hygiene and wear shirts and shoes," Churchill said. "We absolutely have no objection to long hair or casual dress; just that they be clean."

22 Die As Jet Slams Into Eatery

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP) — "It took one wall where the 17 kids were and just pushed it," one witness gasped after a burning plane crashed into an ice cream parlor jammed with children and their parents, killing 22 persons.

Authorities said one entire family of four died in the crash Sunday along with at least 10 children. Twenty-six others — mostly children — were injured when the private plane catapulted across a highway shortly after takeoff and hit Farrell's Ice Cream Parlor.

The pilot of the Korean war-vintage jet fighter survived and was quoted as saying, "I'm sorry! I'm sorry!" as he was pulled from the wreckage.

A 12-year-old girl in the shop crowded with about 100 persons said she thought it was "a gimmick" to accompany the serving of a special ice cream sundae. "Then everyone started screaming and running."

Don McClusky, a management trainee working at the store, said a birthday party group of 17 persons was seated at the table at the front window and had just been served with ice cream, candy and favors when the plane crashed through the wall beside them. Most of the dead were found in that part of the store.

The crash occurred as the F86 Sabrejet was taking off from Sacramento's Executive Airport after participating in an air show. The plane had been converted to civilian use.

Witnesses said the plane appeared to lose power in the takeoff. It crashed on an old levee barrier at the end of the runway and hurtled across a four-lane highway.

The craft burst into flames about the time it hit three autos parked by the front entrance to the ice cream parlor. Two of the autos were rammed with the burning plane through the front of the building.

Twenty of the dead were tentatively identified as customers in the store. Two others had been seated in one of the autos crushed by the jet.

Coroner George Nielsen said some identifications might be delayed because the fingerprints of children usually aren't on file.

He said he had few calls from parents, possibly because some of the parents were among the hospitalized.

The pilot was identified as Richard Bingham, 36, of Novato, Calif., general manager of Spectrum Air.

Bingham was listed in satisfactory condition with fractures at Sacramento Medical Center. A witness said a man with a pair of wire cutters ran to the blue and gold jet — risking the flames — and cut the pilot loose.

The witness told newsmen the pilot was crying and saying over and over again, "I'm sorry! I'm sorry."

Heat from the crash charred paint on parked automobiles 60 feet away. The impact knocked over mannequins in windows at the other end of the block.

Witnesses gave contradictory accounts of when the fire started, but several said that the wings — which contain the fuel tanks — were severed from the rest of the craft as it roared toward the ice cream parlor.

All of the other stores in the plush shopping center were closed or had just one or two persons each inside.

Marcos Says Move Blocked Insurrection

MANILA (AP) — Fifty-three prominent Filipinos, including two provincial governors, six members of Congress and seven newspapermen, have been arrested in the Manila region since martial law was proclaimed over the weekend, the presidential palace announced today.

Press Secretary Francisco Tatad provided the first official confirmation of the arrests over the single television channel still operating. All but selected media outlets have been closed and news being sent abroad is censored.

Tatad spoke as the island nation awaited details of far-reaching reforms planned by President Ferdinand E. Marcos' government to create what it described as a "new society."

Marcos said he was assuming martial law powers and reorganizing his government to block an insurrection threatened by Mao-oriented Communists and to improve conditions for the masses who live in acute poverty.

In his announcement, Tatad said four of the prominent persons detained had subsequently been released.

Among those still under detention were Sen. Benigno Aquino Jr., a leader of the opposition Liberal party, an outspoken critic of Marcos and a possible candidate for the presidency in 1973 elections; Sen. Jose Diokno, member of the civil liberties union; and Sen. Ramon Mitra, another prominent member of the opposition.

A palace official said the announced arrests covered only the Greater Manila area, suggesting that more have been made in the provinces.

Announcement of the detentions confirmed speculation that had been sweeping Manila during a news blackout that followed proclamation of martial law.

In lightning moves, Marcos closed down all but one of Manila's 15 daily newspapers, shut six of the city's seven television stations and nine of the major radio stations.

He has also issued a series of "general orders" aimed, the palace said, at saving the republic from Communist rebellion and creating a "new society."

The measures resulted in: —Closing of all but selected media outlets and censorship of news sent abroad.

—A temporary ban on Filipino traveling abroad.

—National control of airlines and sky marshals aboard all planes to thwart possible hijacking.

—Closing of all schools for a week.

—The death penalty for illegal possession of firearms, the start of disarming the many private armies and security force in this country.

—A ban on all public demonstrations, rallies and labor strikes.

The government has also promised a thorough reorganization to root out "corruption, incompetence and uselessness" and a crackdown against crime syndicates.

Poll Shows Demo Voters Prefer Nixon To McGovern

NEW YORK (AP) — A new poll conducted jointly for Time magazine and The New York Times shows President Nixon leading Democratic presidential candidate George McGovern by 39 points — 62 to 23 per cent.

Moreover, the President has overtaken McGovern even among registered Democrats, 43 to 40 per cent, according to the survey released Sunday. It was conducted by Daniel Yankelovich, Inc., between Aug. 25 and Sept. 12.

The 39-point overall margin represents an 11 percentage point increase over a parallel Yankelovich survey taken a month earlier which showed Nixon ahead by 28 points — 56 to 28 per cent.

Meanwhile, McGovern aides disclosed the results of a private national poll showing the Democratic contender had whittled the Nixon lead from 34 points to 22 points in the past few weeks.

McGovern campaign director Frank Mankiewicz said Sunday that the poll was based on telephone conversations with 1,600 persons nationwide, all of whom had been interviewed in depth earlier.

The Times said there was an indication in the Yankelovich survey that McGovern may have narrowed Nixon's lead during early September but the shift was so small that it could have been accounted for by sampling error.

In the Time-Times poll, 2,329 registered voters in the 16 largest states were interviewed by telephone. The states account for two-thirds of the total electoral vote.

Over-all, the poll showed Nixon ahead among virtually all age groups, social classes, income levels, nationalities and regions.

He led by 34 points among Roman Catholics, 51 points among Protestants, 38 points among independents, 43 points among middle-income voters, 47 points among Italian-Americans and 54 points in the South.

The most dramatic finding was the President's lead among Democrats. In the previous Yankelovich poll, McGovern led among all Democratic voters, 45 to 37 per cent.

Both the Yankelovich poll and another conducted by the Gallup organization for Newsweek magazine showed Nixon ahead nationally among young voters.

The Gallup poll gave Nixon a 52-43 per cent lead among 18-to-24-year-old voters because of an "enormous" lead among Southern youth. But it said McGovern was leading among the young in the East and Midwest and neck and neck among young voters in the West.

Yankelovich found college youth favored McGovern by 53 to 40 per cent while noncollege youth preferred Nixon by 49 to 34 per cent. Because there are twice as many in the noncollege group, Nixon held an overall margin of 3 percentage points.

Reds Step Up Viet Attacks To Sever Main Road Artery

SAIGON (AP) — North Vietnamese forces stepped up their attacks below Da Nang today in an apparent effort to gain new access routes to the vital north-south Highway 1 and weaken support for the Saigon government.

Associated Press correspondent Michael Putzel reported that an estimated two North Vietnamese companies numbering up to 200 troops attacked a militia outpost about 25 miles south of Da Nang. The outpost is in a village which has access to Highway 1.

The militia company of 100 men was still holding at last report.

Fifty miles to the south, government troops were reported to have begun an operation aimed at clearing Highway 1 south of Quang Ngai City. About six miles of the highway are cut between the Song Ve bridge and the district town of Mo Duc, 15 miles south of Quang Ngai City.

North Vietnamese and Viet Cong forces kept up their harassing attacks in Quang Ngai province with rockets and mortar.

Officials said the wave of attacks below Da Nang is aimed at destroying the Saigon government's credibility in protecting the population it claims it controls.

Since Aug. 18, the attackers have captured three district towns and several outposts. One town has been recaptured. Thousands of refugees have been left homeless and scores of civilians killed in the cross-fire.

In the northern region above Da Nang, light fighting was reported in Thua Thien and Quang Tri provinces where government troops have launched a 20,000-man sweep operation.

Death Ends Youth's Stay

LOS ANGELES (AP) — The young man who came to Jose Martinez' little restaurant said his name was Miguel, he was 19, from Juarez, Mexico, and he needed work.

Martinez said he couldn't afford to hire anybody. But when Miguel pleaded, Martinez told him he could sleep in the restaurant and sweep floors to pay for meals until he could find a job.

Miguel spent three nights there.

When Martinez opened the restaurant Sunday he saw signs of a struggle. He found Miguel behind a counter, stabbed to death.

Police said Miguel apparently died trying to repel a burglar, who escaped with some beer.

Federal Employee Activists Have The Blahs

By G.C. THELEN Jr., Associated Press Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The activist underground, federal employee branch, has a case of the blahs.

At their headiest a few years ago, government employees at odds with Nixon administration policies turned out thousands of marchers against the Indochina war; helped bring down cabinet officer Robert H. Finch; grilled agency heads; circulated petitions; organized countless protest meetings in the bowels of sprawling federal departments.

The loosely knit cadre of mostly white, young and middle-class bureaucrats hit the uptight civil service like a cold shower stuck on open.

Their issues were the war, civil rights enforcement, poverty, urban reconstruction and what the government wasn't doing about them.

The 1970 Finch case testified to their former impact. President Nixon removed the secretary of Health, Education and Welfare after more than 2,000 HEW employees demanded a public accounting from Finch of the administration's civil rights policies.

Today the omph is gone. The activists' boss-needing underground newsletters appear more irregularly. The brown-bag discussion groups at lunch have lapsed. Few march. Petitions go uncirculated. "Lobbying is useless and demonstrations are a drag," said Dr. Phil Ross, an antiwar activist at the National Institutes of Health. "We've done what reasonable people could do, and we are disillusioned."

"A lot of government people don't believe in government anymore," said Daniel J. Schuller, a $29,000-a-year federal housing official. He heads the Committee on Urban Priorities and Peace, an employee group at the Department of Housing and Urban Development.

"People are retreating into their own lives and careers; they feel dirty about what they are doing," Schuller said.

A number of antiwar, antipoverty activists have left the government. Others, like Madeleine Golde, have transferred (Continued on Page 8)

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — The Indianapolis Police Department, which for four years has invited any interested "civilian" to ride as an observer in a police car, terms the project "highly successful."

Police Chief Winston L. Churchill, who started the program, said the practice allows civilians to "better understand the police, their problems and also what goes on in the city."

Churchill said that a rider must sign a waiver before getting into the police car, and parents must sign the waiver for underage riders.

The only requirement is that riders "have good personal hygiene and wear shirts and shoes," Churchill said. "We absolutely have no objection to long hair or casual dress; just that they be clean."

Faulty Furnace Blamed In Death

Funeral services for Jessie Lee Roller, 82, 7867 Main St., Orient, who died in the fiery inferno of his son's home Saturday, will be 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in Johnson-McKellar Funeral Home, Baltimore.

According to final reports of the tragedy, Mr. Roller's son, Herman Lee Roller, Sr., owner of the two-story wood frame house, lit a fuel oil furnace about 9:05 a.m. Saturday at the request of his partially blind father.

Herman then left the house to work outside. He later reported that the furnace had not been working properly.

Mr. Roller was apparently sitting in his favorite chair adjacent to the furnace when it caught fire and exploded, engulfing the house in flames.

TWO granddaughters, Yvonne, 19, and Fannie, 13, were upstairs when the floor furnace ignited. They were warned by their grandfather's screams to run from the house.

Yvonne who suffered burns and was given emergency treatment, at the scene, fled out the front door, while Fanny, trapped upstairs had to jump to safety. She was treated at Mt. Carmel Hospital, Columbus, for knee injuries.

Yvonne contacted next door neighbor, Earl McWhorter, and then located her father.

McWhorter said he ran to the house and could see the chair in flames but could not see Mr. Roller.

Herman Roller tried to enter through the front door but flames blocked his entrance. He ran to the rear of the house and disconnected the fuel oil drum.

He apparently heard his father yell from the kitchen and tried unsuccessfully to break down the door. He then shattered a window, but was forced to turn from the intense heat.

HE was treated for a deep laceration to his forearm and minor burns.

Fire Departments from Harrisburg, Scioto and Jackson Townships were called to the scene to fight the blaze, however it was not until 10:35 a.m. that they were able to gain control of the fire.

They remained at the scene until about 1 p.m. to make certain the fire was extinguished. Several walls were torn down to insure that they were not burning.

Value of the house was listed at $6,000 by Scioto Fire Chief. Don Thrasher, who also listed value of contents at $3,000.

Four firemen were injured fighting the blaze. They were Jim Carnes, 50, and Ronald Puckett of the Harrisburg Squad. Carnes was treated for second degree burns, and Puckett was overcome by smoke.

Jim Lewis of the Scioto Squad was treated for second degree burns of his back and neck and Robert Leffingwell of the Jackson Twp. unit was treated for a head injury.

THE fire remains under investigation.

Mr. Roller was born Oct. 19, 1889. He is survived by son Herman Lee Roller, Sr.; granddaughters Yvonne and Fannie; grandsons, Gale, 16, and Herman Lee Roller, Jr., 17; one sister, Mrs. Effie Carpenter, Baltimore.

He was a retired night watchman and a member of the Wagram United Methodist Church.

The Rev. William Snider will be in charge of the service. Burial will be in Glen Rest Memorial Estates, Reynoldsburg.

Friends may call at the funeral home 7 to 9 p.m. Monday and 2 to 4 p.m. and 7 to 9 p.m. Tuesday.

INFERNO — Fireman from three township fire departments battled to save the Orient home of Herman Roller Saturday morning. Jessie Lee Roller, 82, who lived with his son, was killed when an oil furnace exploded. Four firemen were injured.

Seven Injured In Auto Mishaps During Weekend

Seven people were injured and six cars were declared total losses in accidents investigated by the Pickaway County Sheriff's Department last weekend. All but one of the crashes were blamed on slippery roads.

Two cars were destroyed and two people were injured 6:30 p.m. Saturday at the intersection of the Circleville-Lockbourne Road and the St. Paul Road.

According to Deputy Don Thompson's report, a car driven by Virgil Six, 75, Route 1, Ashville, pulled into the path of a car driven by William Hawkins, 21, Columbus. Hawkins was treated for a bump to his forehead and left knee injuries. Six refused treatment for a bumped head.

AMELIA Collins, 25, 404 S. Washington St., suffered arm and back injuries when she lost control of her car on the Circleville-Tarleton Road, 9:15 p.m. Saturday.

According to Deputy Don Thompson's report, she was driving west and rounding a curve to the left when she lost control on slicked pavement and crashed into a fence.

Her car was a total loss. Three steel posts and two rods of fence, owned by Ronald List, Route 1, were also destroyed. Deputy Thompson charged 30-year-old Joseph Gilpen of 156 Water St., with driving while intoxicated following a 1:45 a.m. Sunday wreck.

Thompson said Gilpen was east-bound on the Circleville-Commercial Point road when he lost control of his car off the right side.

The car skidded 26 feet and crashed into a Scioto River bridge guardrail, grazed off, went left of center and drove 62 feet before crashing through the north guardrail.

Thirty feet of the bridging, along with Gilpen's car, were destroyed.

HE suffered multiple lacerations of his wrist, a mouth injury and complained of hip pains.

Sheryl Lynn Quincel, 18, Route 1, suffered a nose laceration and right shoulder injuries after she lost control of her car 2:30 p.m. Sunday on the Ludwig-Dresbach Road and ran into a utility pole.

According to Deputy Bob Hoover, Miss Quincel was driving east on the Road when her car skidded while she tried to negotiate a stop sign at the intersection of the Morris-Salem Road.

The car continued to skip across the road on the rain-slicked pavement, crashed into a ditch and hit the utility pole. Donald Ball, 66, Columbus, demolished his small car 7:25 p.m. Sunday when he failed to negotiate a right curve on the Williamsport-Palestine Road and skidded 343 feet out of control into a fence on wet roads.

He was treated for shoulder pains. A passenger, Edward Trent, 19, Galloway, suffered a lacerated hand.

Klan Rally At Loveland Draws Few

LOVELAND, Ohio (AP) — James Venable, Imperial Wizard of the Ku Klux Klan has told Ohio recruiters to work to overcome the Klan's "historic violent identity."

Venable, in a brief address to a Klan recruiting rally at Loveland Park 20 miles northeast of Cincinnati Sunday night, said that the new aim of the Klan is to "become a political force to be contended with."

He cautioned, however, that the Klan still maintains its traditional stands including its positions against integration and Communism.

Venable called for support of American Independent Party Presidential Nominee John Schmitz, a lameduck Republican California congressman.

Venable, an Atlanta, Ga., attorney, accused the American Bar Association of bending the nation's laws and said the result was "ruining the nation."

He said Schmitz embodied the Klan's philosophy of "Constitutional rights."

Less than 50 persons turned out for the closing of the two-day rally here, and less than 100 the day before.

Funeral services for Jessie Lee Roller, 82, 7867 Main St., Orient, who died in the fiery inferno of his son's home Saturday, will be 1:30 p.m. Wednesday in Johnson-McKellar Funeral Home, Baltimore.

According to final reports of the tragedy, Mr. Roller's son, Herman Lee Roller, Sr., owner of the two-story wood frame house, lit a fuel oil furnace about 9:05 a.m. Saturday at the request of his partially blind father.

Herman then left the house to work outside. He later reported that the furnace had not been working properly.

Mr. Roller was apparently sitting in his favorite chair adjacent to the furnace when it caught fire and exploded, engulfing the house in flames.

Pre Natal Clinic Has Caseload Of 40 Patients

clinic is held twice a month at Berger Hospital. It was made possible by funds it receives from the Community Fund Drive.

Prenatal Clinic had its beginning Dec. 7, 1966 at Berger Hospital with one patient at that first clinic.

Today it has an average caseload of 40 patients. The clinic was established when it became evident that many expectant mothers were not receiving adequate prenatal care.

The hospital was faced with 26 women per month "walking in" ready to deliver with no family doctor or care. At the first visit to clinic the patient is given a complete physical examination by the doctor. She will have a history taken, blood work done, urine, weight and blood pressure checked.

Instruction is given by the clinic nurse concerning diet, exercise, the stages of pregnancy and any danger signs that should be reported. She also is given vitamins; and iron, if necessary.

AN appointment to return on the first or third Wednesday is given unless she is in the latter part of her pregnancy; if so she will come to each clinic. The patient is delivered at Berger Hospital by the doctor on clinic duty that month. At the time of her discharge, she is given an appointment to return to clinic for six weeks examination.

The clinic is governed by a board consisting of participating doctors; Dr. Emily Lutz and Dr. Frank Moore; three members of Child Conservation League, the City and County Health Nurses and the Administrator of Berger Hospital. These same people staff the clinic, with volunteer help from members of the Child Conservation League.

Because of the increase in caseload, the board found it necessary to employ another nurse. She assists the doctor while the other nurse counsel's the patients. Patients benefit greatly from their clinic visits. Through the Health Nurses they can be guided toward other health services, such as Well Child Clinic and Family Planning.

From the clinic nurses they learn of proper diet and personal hygiene. We who work at Prenatal Clinic feel that it is very vital. These expectant mothers must have proper care. We find our work to be extremely rewarding and worthwhile.

It is only through the continued generosity of the community that this service is available.

Smoke Reported At Laundramat

Firemen on the city force investigated a report of smoke at Porter's Laundry, N. Court St., at 9:07 p.m. Saturday.

They reported that the accident near the hospital had created a drop in voltage in the north-end area and caused the machines to smoke.

The firetruck was then dispatched to the accident scene on standby and when the wreckage was removed, assisted in cleaning the streets.

Open Letter

Dear Friends,

We have been asked this question, "What should be done when death comes to a loved one at some distant point?"

We suggest that the next of kin immediately phone his hometown funeral director who will then make all arrangements for the care and return of the deceased.

This will avoid possible misunderstandings that can so easily occur.

Respectfully,

Woman Naturalist Likes Snakes

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Women and snakes haven't lived exactly in harmony since Eve, but an Ohio woman is out to change all that.

Mrs. Cleo Gold, a naturalist for the Ohio Department of Natural Resources, says being squeamish about snakes "is just a matter of ignorance." As proof she's conquered her own fears of snakes, she keeps boxes of them in her living room for "display purposes."

"The first thing people need to know is they're not slimy," she said. "Actually, they're soft, like plastic. Sometimes they are cold, because they are cold-blooded animals, but I try to warm them up before someone new handles them."

"Secondly," she said, "is that snakes don't attack people. They're really very important in nature."

Mrs. Gold captured her snake collection (which number from 9 to 12—"I can't tell because my water snake just had babies") tramping through Burr Oaks State Park.

Mrs. Gold works fulltime in the summers in the park, and part-time in the winters, teaching nature classes, conducting hikes, and maintain the nature center.

Included in the park's live animal program are snakes, lizards, turtles, live chipmunks and flying squirrels.

She made snakes her summer project because they are easy to catch. "You just have to know where they live," she said. "If I were looking for copperheads, I would look in rock piles or rotten stumps."

To catch her snakes, Mrs. Gold uses a special snake stick with pronged head for pinning the snake's head to the ground. "When you learn the right way to do it, it's not hard," she said.

This is Mrs. Gold's third summer as a naturalist. For six years she was a radio operator for the Natural Resources Department and then decided to return to school to become a naturalist. She boasts she is the first woman ever to graduate in recreation and wildlife technology from Hocking Technical Institute.

Because she is licensed to keep animals in her home for educational purposes, Mrs. Gold has three such animals—a gray fox, a deer and a great horned owl.

The fox "isn't quite tame" and she keeps him penned up or leashed in the back yard. "It's a matter of who's going to eat who first," between the fox and the owl, she said.

One reason the general public isn't allowed to keep such animals is their diet. For instance, most people don't know that the great horned owl has to be fed fur and feathers in order to survive, she said.

So, Mrs. Gold has the not-too-pleasant task of scraping up "road kills" for her owl. "It's not as gruesome as it may sound," she said. "There are a lot of 'road kills' and when I can't find any, I feed him beef hearts."

Ironically enough, Mrs. Gold's interest in nature started with wild flowers. But she wouldn't change being a naturalist for the world. "I think it's the greatest," she said.

Dear Abby: By Abigail Van Buren

Readers Put Teeth Into Dentures Issue

DEAR ABBY: I can certainly feel for that widow with dentures who is worried about how men would feel about a woman if they knew she wore dentures. I am 34, divorced, and just got mine. I am well-adjusted in other areas, but I dread meeting a fellow I might like, and then having to tell him I wear dentures.

Your advice to keep her mouth shut won't help her much. If she becomes romantically involved with a man, I am sure they will do more than just hold hands, and he will surely learn the truth if they do any passionate kissing.

I hope you hear from men telling you how they feel about a woman with dentures because this is my problem, too.

"G" IN BROOKLYN

DEAR G.: My dental consultants assure me that dentures can be made so realistically that their presence will be undetected during the most passionate kissing. (Unless you get a kiss that will cause you to drop your teeth, which is highly unlikely.) But please read on.

DEAR ABBY: In my 84 years I have never heard it suggested that a man's emotional responses to a woman might be affected by her wearing dentures!

I refer to your column in the Columbus Citizen: If that woman signed "Feeling Low" is concerned lest the man in whom she is interested would find her less attractive if he knew she wore dentures, she should put him to the test as soon as possible. If there is a remote chance that his attitude proves to be as she fears the sooner she finds out what a jerk he is, the better. Yours truly,

WARREN CHADBOURNE, GROVE CITY, O.

DEAR WARREN: Your letter will bring joy to the hearts of many a lady who smiles through her dentures. Thanks for writing.

DEAR ABBY: That letter about dentures took me back to when I courted my second wife. She told me she had something to "confess" before we married. Then she said, "I wear false teeth, dear."

I replied, "That's all right, sweetheart. So do I."

Then she smiled and said, "Yours are obvious, and before we're married I think you ought to fix yourself up with some that don't clack." (P.S. I did.)

GRAMPS

DEAR ABBY: You told that widow with dentures that the man who marries her should be glad he won't have any more dental bills to pay. Whoa girl.

Even though her dentures may fit perfectly now, mechanical teeth do wear out. And one's mouth and jaw formation changes, requiring new dentures. Theoretically dentures should be changed every five years—like an automobile. To adjust to muscle changes. And don't forget breakage!

DEAR ABBY: Some lady wanted to know how men felt about women who wear false teeth. I have had lots of experience along that line as I am 80 years old and have had five wives. (Four died and one divorced me.) The last four had false teeth when I married them and I didn't think a thing of it. I am going with a lady right now who has false teeth, and it doesn't make any difference to me. I really think I prefer women with false teeth because they talk less.

"HAVE FALSIES (TEETH,) TOO!"

DEAR ABBY: Tell the gal who's sensitive about her dentures not to worry. They won't keep the guys away.

I married one with china clippers and a padded bra because I thought all the rest of her was real. Too late I found out she was also false hearted. That blew it!

Constitutional Change Proposed On State Bonds

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A proposed constitutional change that would allow the state to issue revenue bonds for loans to industries needing assistance for plant improvements was approved Friday by the Ohio Constitutional Revision Commission.

The commission recommendation also specified the possibility of financing pollution control facilities for utilities.

Constitutional amendment proposals recommended by the commission must be approved by the legislature and the voters.

The commission was launched formally in January 1971, on what could be a nine year study of Ohio's constitution, last upgraded in 1851.

Cavalry In Retreat

Switzerland has made a regrettable decision. It is going to disband its cavalry, all 18 squadrons of it. In the land of the Alps, where horses are still employed in large numbers for sport and work, the cavalry has not yet gone armored.

But it is going. Only parliamentary confirmation is needed to accomplish the decision of the federal council. Cavalrymen are needed to support combat units, which presently are maintained by a strict compulsory military system.

The Swiss public is not happy with the decision. Not only does it respect the horse and his rider, but the tradition and pageantry of the Swiss cavalry has rarely been duplicated. Petitions bearing 400,000 signatures are protesting its dissolution.

In a land where plow horses and four-horse drays are not an uncommon sight, and where tradition is revered and not scorned, the cavalry has special significance. Any country can and generally does form a combat unit, but a horse cavalry — that is a sight with a scent of its own.

How The Swiss See Us

BY JOHN CHAMBERLAIN
BERNE, SWITZERLAND (KFS)—If one asks long enough and persistently enough, one can come up with the name of the President of Switzerland.

He is Nello Celio (or Celio Nello, if the proper official inversion is to be followed). Since he comes from the relatively small Italian-speaking part of the country, he is spoken of as the representative of minorities. But it is a mistake to think of him as the popular choice of any section or group; he enjoys his office as a matter of rotation, a "first among equals" in a seven-man Federal Council that picks the President for one year only.

This is in accordance with the ancient wisdom that considers government more terrible than tigers, and regards a great man as a public calamity. The big difference between the Swiss Confederation and the 50 states of the U.S.A. is that Switzerland is a country where authority comes from the bottom up.

An attempt to describe the U.S. Federal system, with its quadrennial election madness and emphasis on such things as chairman and "image," evokes only the blindest sort of incomprehension in these parts. Why the fury over picking a President in a nation of 50 supposedly sovereign units?

Above all, what is this nonsense about Federal welfare in a land that has virtually limitless acreage? The Swiss householder, who grows lettuce and tomatoes in front-yard space where Americans grow crabgrass, and who plants cherry and plum trees as New Worlders plant maple saplings, just can't understand the indolence or indigence, put it as you will, of people with level ground to exploit.

Mr. Henry Altorf, the president of the Watchmakers of Switzerland Informational Center, tried to explain the Swiss concept of social security to me in between his exposition of watchmaking economics to a group of visiting business writers. To begin with, he said, there is "no such thing as Swiss citizenship." A Swiss is a "man of his canton, even of his village."

"If a person should be stranded in Lugano without visible means of support," said Mr. Altorf, "he would be asked the name of his canton, meaning his birthplace. If the name happens to be Zurich, he will be packed off on the next train to Zurich. Meanwhile a call will go to the Zurich police."

The man will be met at the train, and if he is able-bodied he will soon be sweeping the Zurich streets. If you had this system in the U.S., Mayor Lindsay's worries would be over, and your South would be the cleanest place on earth."

Mr. Altorf's point was corroborated by a German-speaking Swiss watchmaking executive who works in the French-speaking Neuchâtel

Give as fine an ethical and spiritual training as you can, and a business administration course which will be most helpful. A sense of humor here.

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

I am a pipe smoker, and have been told that the heat of the smoke may be responsible for two white patches on my cheek. I have had them for many years.

I told a friend about them because he has the same condition. He scared me by saying that these are considered "pre-malignant."

Is this possible?
Mr. T. M., Maine

Dear Mr. M.:
There is a compounding of errors here that has led to your fear that your condition may be malignant.

Your friends may or may not have the "same condition" as you do. However, he transmitted to you the "pre-malignant" fears that had been induced in him. And now you are paying a penalty that might so easily have been avoided.

The white patches, leukoplakia, originating from the Greek leukos (white) and plax (plate), can be caused by hot pipe or cigar smoke, by sharp irregularities of the teeth, and by persistent biting of the mucous membrane of the mouth.

I have for years been distressed when patients are told that they must "watch those white spots because they may be pre-malignant." I have known patients who concentrated their days on "watching" these spots, living in constant fear of trouble.

When a patient is asked to "watch" anything, his fears must necessarily mount. How much wiser it is, and how much kinder it is to the patient, if the doctor does all the "watching" without specifically frightening the patient into looking for a consequence that may never arise.

The important thing is to follow your doctor's instructions and go back to be checked when he asks you to.

Jewish Committee Supports McGovern

CINCINNATI (AP) — An informal Jewish Committee for McGovern says it hopes to convince Jewish business leaders that a whisper campaign has wrongly depicted the Democratic presidential nominee as being anti-Israel.

The Cincinnati group is headed by Rabbi Stanley Chyet, professor of American Jewish history at the Hebrew Union College-Jewish Institute of Religion.

According To Boyle

By HAL BOYLE

NEW YORK (AP) — Jumping to conclusions:

A woman can never forget her first love; a man finds it hard to forgive his last one.

The most difficult goal for any person to achieve is to become a real human being. One is fortunate if he succeeds after the effort of a long lifetime.

The only time you can depend on most people to be totally honest with themselves is when they doubt themselves.

The rich are not so hard to understand once you realize that their morals are never quite as bad as their manners.

His willingness to lend you money in an emergency isn't the best test of a friend. A friend is a guy who, when he has a royal flush and you have four of a kind in a poker game, refrains from baiting you into betting your way into bankruptcy. He leaves you dazed and with your wallet bruised and bloody, but alive and with enough spare change to take a cab home. That's friendship.

The best picture of the year is "Deliverance," which is brutal, ecological and memorable. One of the opening scenes, featuring a banjo and guitar duet between a blind mountain boy and a grownup city feller, is a gentle screen classic. It is so touching it makes you want to cry with gladness for its warmth.

I've tossed coins in scores of charitable wishing wells in traveling across America, but can't recall a single wish ever coming true. I can't decide whether I need to start tossing in larger coins or making smaller wishes.

Woman love to get something for nothing, even though it is something they usually would have no use for. The other day I saw three elderly, well-dressed ladies at the seashore clacking like happy chickens over three 10-pound bluefish.

TODAY In History

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Today is Monday, Sept. 25, the 269th day of 1972. There are 97 days left in the year.

Today's highlight in history: On this date in 1789, the U.S. Congress submitted to the states 12 amendments to the Constitution. The 10 that were adopted became the Bill of Rights.

On this date: In 1513, the Spanish explorer Balboa crossed the Isthmus of Panama and discovered the Pacific Ocean.

In 1775, American Revolutionary soldier Ethan Allen was captured in an attack on Montreal.

In 1890, Congress established Yosemite National Park in California.

In 1940, in World War II, the Quisling government was established in Norway.

In 1942, wartime gasoline rationing was ordered in the United States.

In 1957, nine Negro students who had been barred from Central High School in Little Rock, Ark., were escorted into the building by U.S. Army troops.

Ten years ago: Mississippi Gov. Ross E. Barnett defied for a second time a federal court order in preventing Negro James H. Meredith from entering the University of Mississippi.

Which reminds me: Will the lady who has been sending me

Dear Editor:

The Madison County Board of Commissioners is taking this means of expressing our sincere thanks and gratitude for the outstanding cooperation shown by the Pickaway County Commissioners in bringing the construction of the bridge at Era, our McClimansville Cemetery Road, to a speedy and, we are sure, successful conclusion.

The Pickaway Board acted with dispatch and retained a consulting engineer to prepare the plans and specifications immediately after the present bridge was reported in serious distress from corrosion and old age. We are sure the contractor will proceed with all speed to get this project completed.

Again, we do thank the commissioners for their help in keeping this traffic moving safely for both of our Counties.

Sincerely,

Dear Editor:

Recently, I have read several excellent letters in your column regarding voter registration and voting.

After reading these letters I am convinced that more people have been encouraged to register in order to vote.

However, during the past few weeks it is difficult to believe so many of our good citizens are not registered.

On election day they will have the vague excuse "they didn't vote because they were not registered."

Let us suppose your legal right to vote was suddenly taken away from us. I am wondering if the unregistered citizens would accept this without great resistance and question.

Voting is the legal right and privilege of all citizens if they are registered or are on the list to vote so as to assure accurate tabulation of their vote.

Registration costs nothing except a few minutes of your time.

After October 10 your opportunity to register will no longer exist for the upcoming election. This is a very important national election.

Regardless of your party affiliation — Register so you may be counted as a voting citizen on next November 7.

Registering and voting are more important than ever before in order to insure the survival of this great nation — the U.S.A.

Remember, October 10 is the last date for registration here in Circleville.

Sincerely yours,
HELEN M. GEORGE

Dear Editor:

On September 15 I chanced to stay in your most charming town over night.

While attending the high school football game I noticed a group of young girls operating a lunch stand. They were jolly, polite, and appeared to be quite efficient. Upon inquiry I found they are called the S.O.S. club.

In times when we read so much about our young people being doing happy vandals it is indeed heartening to see a group of young folks willing to give of their time and energy for the betterment of their community.

Allow me to give them a verbal pat on the back.

Lend-Lease Talks Snag With Russia

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congressional sources suggest a hitch has developed in the start of the important Soviet-U.S. Lend-Lease talks because of a controversy over Russian treatment of Jews.

"Soviet Jewry has something to do with it," said one source, a House expert on the settlement of Russia's World War II debt, when asked why the talks had not started. "There is no doubt about it."

Presidential adviser Henry A. Kissinger said last Saturday the Russian delegation would arrive this week for the talks, which center on the terms and length of payment and a Soviet demand for preferential treatment in trade.

The delegation arrived in Washington Wednesday, but American officials have been reluctant to discuss why the meetings haven't taken place.

After several State department officials declined to discuss the matter or would only answer "I don't know," press officer Charles Bray said late Friday he expects them to begin next week.

Urge Draft For Women

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The only legitimate issue left involving the Equal Rights Amendment is the draft, according to Katherine Eas, an attorney for the U.S. Department of Labor Women's Division.

"The equal rights amendment will affect substantially and vitally women's responsibilities for military service and opportunities in military service," the Washington attorney told a group of women attending an ERA conference sponsored by the Ohio Commission on the Status of Women Saturday.

"While the draft has usually been seen as an unwelcome responsibility by middle class young men, it has always been an avenue of upward mobility for poor young men," she said.

"The fact that men have been moving out of poverty while women have not is certainly due in part to military service."

Ohio GOP Sees McGovern Making Inroads

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The makeup of the next session of the Ohio House could depend on how well or how badly Sen. George McGovern does in Ohio, say political experts in both parties.

Few on either side expect McGovern to carry Ohio, but even Republicans contend they will be in trouble if President Nixon doesn't carry the state by more than 750,000 votes.

Earlier hopes that Nixon could carry Ohio by at least one million votes have been shattered. McGovern is making inroads on the labor vote. Nixon forces were counting on that vote.

Mrs. McGovern Stumps Dayton

DAYTON, Ohio (AP) — Mrs. George McGovern was scheduled to arrive in Dayton today to do some politicking for her husband — the Democratic presidential candidate.

Her plans included a visit to the Dayton Human Rehabilitation Center, an hour and a half taping session for the Phil Donahue show and the opening of a storefront McGovern campaign headquarters.

Mrs. McGovern is the third national Democratic campaigner to visit Ohio in the past week. Her husband visited three times last week and vice presidential candidate R. Sargent Shriver also visited once.

Any such right shall be exercised by delivering written notice of such cancellation to the undersigned or to the office of the undersigned during business hours. The bids will promptly be considered, and the bonds will be sold to the highest bidder offering the lowest interest rate at not less than par and accrued interest. The lowest interest rate will be determined by calculating the total interest to be paid at maturity at the rate bid and deducting therefrom any premium bid. If each of two or more bids is the highest bid offering the lowest interest rate, the bonds will be awarded on such one of the highest bids as is chosen by lot. All bids must be accompanied by cash, bank cashier's or official's check or certified check payable to the issuer, or any combination thereof, aggregating one percent of the par amount of the bonds, upon the condition that, if the bid is accepted, the bidder will receive and pay for the bonds in accordance with the terms and provisions of this notice. No bank bidding for the bonds shall file its own cashier's or official's check, nor a check certified by it. Such security shall be held by the issuer unused pending delivery of the bonds and forfeited as full liquidated damages in the event of default by the successful bidder.

In the event that, prior to their delivery, the interest on the bonds should be paid by the issuer, or should otherwise become subject to Federal income taxes, or any act of Congress should provide that the interest income on the bonds shall be taxable at a future date for Federal income tax purposes, whether directly or indirectly, the successful bidder may refuse to accept delivery and in such event his bid security shall be returned without interest.

The bonds shall be delivered for payment within the State of Ohio to the successful bidder or to a bank designated by the successful bidder without charge. If delivered at a place outside of the State of Ohio, the successful bidder shall pay the expense of delivery at that place. The expense of delivery within the State of Ohio shall not be considered in determining the highest bid.

Before making tender of the bonds at the place of delivery, the issuer shall give written notice to the successful bidder not later than the fifth business day before the proposed tender of the fact that the bonds, transcript, no-litigation certificate and approving opinion will be available for delivery and tender at the place of delivery, provided, however, that nothing herein contained shall prevent the making of a mutually agreeable arrangement for the delivery of the bonds either at the place fixed for delivery or elsewhere.

his campaign experts refer to as "surrogates."

The term means substitute, usually a cabinet official or somebody else who will spread the Nixon message while the President remains in the White House.

"I am having a hell of a job explaining to my people what a surrogate means," a county GOP chairman told a newsman during the party's state convention.

"They want Nixon or Agnew, and if they don't get into Ohio more often and quit sending surrogates, they can kiss the House goodbye," he said.

Agnew addressed the GOP convention but indicated he may not make any more appearances in the state. He said the President would concentrate mainly on affairs of state.

"We only have one president," Agnew noted.

Ohio Republicans are anxious that it be the same one after No. 7.

Newsman rushed up to a battery of telephones in a press room set up in the Neil House to dictate their stories after that Agnew speech.

When Agnew finished his major address to the convention itself, they rushed back to the same press room to find both it and the telephones gone.

In place of the phones was a bar, being readied for a reception. The phones had been moved to the airport, from which Agnew departed a few minutes later.

Sargent Shriver's chartered blue and white jetliner bears the inscription "Fighting Lucky 7" and he doesn't hesitate to say what the name means.

Campaigning in Cleveland, the Democratic vice presidential candidate noted he was the seventh person asked to come on the ticket with Sen. George McGovern. "Seven is a lucky number, it means you should win," he said.

Also on the nose section of the Boeing 727 are the words "Victory in the Air." One of the candidate's aides said, "I think they put that on there just to make it look cluttered up."

Shriver sat with reporters at a luncheon at the City Club of Cleveland. He said he favors the lettuce boycott of Caesar Chavez and the western migrant workers.

In the meantime, he had ordered a chef's salad which included ham and cheese, and among other things, lettuce. "I'm going to thread my way around the green stuff," he said.

Agnew Plans Big-States Trip To Boost Candidates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew is setting his sights for the second week of his campaign on three large states—Texas, Illinois and Florida—considered crucial to President Nixon's hopes for a big election victory.

As he did last week, however, Agnew expects to spend much of this time seeking support for Republican Senate and House candidates.

First stop is Texas. Agnew is scheduled to fly to San Antonio today for a speech to the National Defense Transportation Association before going on to Fort Worth.

On Tuesday, he goes to Illinois for appearances in Chicago and downstate Galesburg before returning to Washington Wednesday. Later in the week, he plans a two-day swing to Florida, Mississippi and Louisiana.

In the latter part of last week, Agnew concentrated on plugging for election of Republican senators in four Southern and border states where the Nixon-Agnew ticket is considered far ahead — Tennessee, North Carolina, Virginia and Kentucky.

This week's campaigning is keyed more to building support for the national GOP ticket in three of the nation's eight largest states.

Especially in the South, however, Agnew will try to get support for GOP congressional candidates by linking their Democratic rivals with presidential nominee George McGovern, though in most cases they are shying away from their party's national ticket.

In Texas, Agnew plans to attend a reception tonight for Sen. John G. Tower, who is running for the first time in a presidential year which normally draws a far larger Democratic vote than years in which only state and congressional offices are contested.

Agnew Plans Big-States Trip To Boost Candidates

WASHINGTON (AP) — Vice President Spiro T. Agnew is setting his sights for the second week of his campaign on three large states—Texas, Illinois and Florida—considered crucial to President Nixon's hopes for a big election victory.

As he did last week, however, Agnew expects to spend much of this time seeking support for Republican Senate and House candidates.

First stop is Texas. Agnew is scheduled to fly to San Antonio today for a speech to the National Defense Transportation Association before going on to Fort Worth.

On Tuesday, he goes to Illinois for appearances in Chicago and downtown Galesburg before returning to Washington Wednesday. Later in the week, he plans a two-day swing to Florida, Mississippi and Louisiana.

In the latter part of last week, Agnew concentrated on plugging for election of Republican senators in four Southern and border states where the Nixon-Agnew ticket is considered far ahead — Tennessee, North Carolina, Virginia and Kentucky.

This week's campaigning is keyed more to building support for the national GOP ticket in three of the nation's eight largest states.

Especially in the South, however, Agnew will try to get support for GOP congressional candidates by linking their Democratic rivals with presidential nominee George McGovern, though in most cases they are shying away from their party's national ticket.

In Texas, Agnew plans to attend a reception tonight for Sen. John G. Tower, who is running for the first time in a presidential year which normally draws a far larger Democratic vote than years in which only state and congressional offices are contested.

Move Tombstones From Unpaid Graves

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP) — City officials have started removing tombstones from graves of persons whose families have not paid the annual $5 upkeep charge for the past nine years.

Cemetery Supt. B. T. Sullivan says there's no doubt that at some future date the caskets of the abandoned dead will be dug up and moved to a potter's field — and the graves resold.

Council Of Boy Scouts Sets '72 Fall Roundup Campaign

Addition of 6000 new Scouts is the goal of the 1972 fall roundup campaign to be conducted by the Central Ohio Council of Boy Scouts of America, it was announced today by Raymond E. Mason, Jr., Council President.

The campaign will be conducted during the week of September 25, according to Mason, by contacting prospective Scouts in approximately 350 schools in the nine-county Central Ohio area. The following program is planned:

The Cub Scout age group (8-10 years) will be invited to join through a Cub School Night to be held at all schools on Tuesday, September 26.

The Boy Scout age group (11-14 years) will be invited to join through troop rallies at all troop meetings during the week.

According to Mason, the roundup promotion program will be carried out through active Scouts and Scout leaders. Both will be eligible for awards to be presented for attaining recruitment goals.

Mason said that three items have been identified as being the major areas in bringing a new emphasis to Scouting and will be stressed to Scout leaders during the recruitment campaign: Relevant advancement with flexibility in programs and procedures; greater involvement by Scouts in decision making and in growth development; and the optional program for older Scouts in the troop, the leadership corps, with its emphasis on developing leadership competencies.

The Scouting program for the 1970's will be patterned on the shape of the man this country needs in the 1980's, according to Mason, and emphasis will be made on decision making, perception of a broadening world and establishing a set of values and attitudes with the use of oath and law as a guide.

The Pickaway chairman is Walter Yamarick, 113½ Court, 474-4212, Circleville; and in P.C.V., Donald Edwards, 138 S. Fayette, Washington C. H. is chairman.

Meetings will be held 7:30 p.m. tonight at Community United Methodist Church and Jefferson Church of Christ; 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at Trinity Lutheran Church and 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Duvall Scout Hut; 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at Community Mission and 7 p.m. Wednesday at the Shelter House the Presbyterian Church.

Tanaka Opens Peking Talks

PEKING (AP) — The rising sun flag of Japan flew at Peking for the first time in 27 years today as Prime Ministers Chou En-lai and Kakuei Tanaka opened talks that will begin a new era in Chinese-Japanese relations.

Negotiations between the premiers of the new China and the new Japan began around a horseshoe-shaped table in Peking's Great Hall of the People shortly after Chou greeted Tanaka at a sparsely attended but cordial airport ceremony.

Tanaka and 51 aides including Foreign Minister Masayoshi Ohira arrived by special jet for a six-day visit during which they will formally recognize the People's Republic. This is expected to precipitate a break in Japan's long-time relations with Nationalist China on Taiwan.

The Japanese arrival, reminiscent of U.S. President Richard Nixon's summit visit last February, was under a bright autumn sky. The Chinese raised the Japanese flag on an airport flagpole half an hour before Tanaka's plane touched down.

The rising sun flag was pulled down in Peking by the Japanese at the Japanese surrender in 1945.

Tanaka stepped out of the plane, hesitated for a moment, then walked down the steps to shake hands with Chou.

After brief formalities, the two prime ministers faced the military band at attention while it played Kimigayo, the Japanese national anthem, and the Chinese national anthem.

They then reviewed an honor guard of 360 army, air force, and navy men — exactly the same number turned out for Nixon's visit. Almost the only difference between the two summit arrivals was the weather. It was winter when the American president came to Peking.

AT APPLE FESTIVAL—Rita Lear, Miss Ashville Fourth of July, attended the Jackson Apple Festival at Jackson during the weekend. Rita is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Haskel Lear, Route 4.

Bureaucratic activism is by no means dead: But it's written on a smaller tablet these days and has infected new groups, blacks in particular.

So-called task forces against racism have emerged at virtually every federal agency and department in the past two years. These black-led black-constituted groups quickly took over several union locals, pressing demands on government managers for job advancement training raises and day care.

Council Of Boy Scouts Sets '72 Fall Roundup Campaign

Addition of 6000 new Scouts is the goal of the 1972 fall roundup campaign to be conducted by the Central Ohio Council of Boy Scouts of America, it was announced today by Raymond E. Mason, Jr., Council President.

The campaign will be conducted during the week of September 25, according to Mason, by contacting prospective Scouts in approximately 350 schools in the nine-county Central Ohio area. The following program is planned:

The Cub Scout age group (8-10 years) will be invited to join through a Cub School Night to be held at all schools on Tuesday, September 26.

The Boy Scout age group (11-14 years) will be invited to join through troop rallies at all troop meetings during the week.

According to Mason, the roundup promotion program will be carried out through active Scouts and Scout leaders. Both will be eligible for awards to be presented for attaining recruitment goals.

Mason said that three items have been identified as being the major areas in bringing a new emphasis to Scouting and will be stressed to Scout leaders during the recruitment campaign: Relevant advancement with flexibility in programs and procedures; greater involvement by Scouts in decision making and in growth development; and the optional program for older Scouts in the troop, the leadership corps, with its emphasis on developing leadership competencies.

The Scouting program for the 1970's will be patterned on the shape of the man this country needs in the 1980's, according to Mason, and emphasis will be made on decision making, perception of a broadening world and establishing a set of values and attitudes with the use of oath and law as a guide. The Pickaway chairman is Walter Yamarick, 113½ Court, 474-4212, Circleville; and in P.C.V., Donald Edwards, 138 S. Fayette, Washington C. H. is chairman.

Meetings will be held 7:30 p.m. tonight at Community United Methodist Church and Jefferson Church of Christ; 6:30 p.m. Tuesday at Trinity Lutheran Church and 7:30 p.m. Tuesday at Duval Scout Hut; 6:30 p.m. Wednesday at Community Mission and 7 p.m. Wednesday at the Shelter House Presbyterian Church.

Tanaka Opens Peking Talks

PEKING (AP) — The rising sun flag of Japan flew at Peking for the first time in 27 years today as Prime Ministers Chou En-lai and Kakuei Tanaka opened talks that will begin a new era in Chinese-Japanese relations.

Negotiations between the premiers of the new China and the new Japan began around a horseshoe-shaped table in Peking's Great Hall of the People shortly after Chou greeted Tanaka at a sparsely attended but cordial airport ceremony.

Tanaka and 51 aides including Foreign Minister Masayoshi Ohira arrived by special jet for a six-day visit during which they will formally recognize the People's Republic. This is expected to precipitate a break in Japan's long-time relations with Nationalist China on Taiwan.

The Japanese arrival, reminiscent of U.S. President Richard Nixon's summit visit last February, was under a bright autumn sky. The Chinese raised the Japanese flag on an airport flagpole half an hour before Tanaka's plane touched down.

The rising sun flag was pulled down in Peking by the Japanese at the Japanese surrender in 1945.

Tanaka stepped out of the plane, hesitated for a moment, then walked down the steps to shake hands with Chou.

After brief formalities, the two prime ministers faced the military band at attention while it played Kimigayo, the Japanese national anthem, and the Chinese national anthem.

They then reviewed an honor guard of 360 army, air force, and navy men — exactly the same number turned out for Nixon's visit. Almost the only difference between the two summit arrivals was the weather. It was winter when the American president came to Peking.

Namath, Jets Rip Baltimore, 44-34

By BRUCE LOWITT
Associated Press Sports Writer
"I know it sounds dumb," Joe Namath grinned, "but I've had better days throwing the ball."
If he has, the Baltimore Colts are probably quite happy they weren't around then, 'cause they were around Sunday when Namath demolished them to lead the New York Jets to a 44-34 National Football League victory.

"It wasn't my best day," Namath deadpanned after rolling up an incredible 496 aerial yards and six touchdowns.

American League Watches Numbers In Pennant Race

By HAL ROCK
Associated Press Sports Writer
Forget the games behind column. Don't even look at the games remaining column. Those numbers can lead to negative thinking and with 10 days to go in baseball's American League East championship chase, there's not room for negative thinking.
There's nothing negative about Boston's numbers today. The Red Sox hold a one-game edge over Detroit after whipping the Tigers 7-2 Sunday. Third place Baltimore remained 2½ behind, defeating Milwaukee 4-3, and the fourth-place New York Yankees closed to within three games of the top by sweeping a doubleheader from Cleveland, 5-4 in 11 innings and 8-3.
In other American League games, Oakland reduced its magic number for clinching the West to five. The A's split a doubleheader with Kansas City, losing 4-2 before winning 2-1. Chicago topped Texas 7-4 and California edged Minnesota 2-1.
Managers always look at the bright side of things. So, Detroit boss Billy Martin, one behind with eight to play, said, "I like our position very well."
And Jim Palmer, whose 100th career victory kept Baltimore alive, 2½ back with seven left, said, "We've got to win all of our games... but we can do it since we play Boston three times at home."
And New York manager

Ralph Houk saw a good omen in the Yankee attack that produced 13 runs in the doubleheader sweep against the Indians. "If we can start scoring runs again, we can have some fun. We know we have to win practically every day and we can't worry about what the other clubs do."
The man with the most right to optimism is Boston Manager Eddie Kasko, whose team has hung on doggedly to the lead. The Red Sox have been out of first place only one day since Sept. 7 when the took over the lead. Kasko, however, remains non-committal.
"Of course anything can happen," he said, "but it looks like it's going down to the last three." That would be Boston's wrapup series at Detroit Oct. 2-3-4.
Boston jumped on Detroit's Woody Fryman for four runs in the first inning and that was a good enough cushion for retired Luis Tiant, who has emerged as the ace of the Red Sox staff.
Tiant pitched a seven-hitter and ran his record since Aug. 1 to 10-1. He is 14-5 for the season and has won 10 in a row at Fenway Park.
A two-run single by Carl Yastrzemski and Reggie Smith's two-run homer staked Tiant to the quick lead. Then Rico Petrocelli smashed a three-run homer as the Red Sox ended Fryman's five-game winning streak.

Tiger Thinclads Win Invitational

Circleville's cross country team garnered 117 points to take top honors in the Whitehall Invitational Meet Saturday.
The Tigers defeated some tough competition which included Class AAA and AA schools.
Dick Liston finished ninth for the Tigers: Jeff Robbins, 13th; Matt McGowan, 26th; Steve Watters, 27th; Glen Gillespie, 32nd; Robin Martin, 79th and John McCoy, 8th.
Reynoldsburg was second with 120 points; Delaware, third, 125; Newark, fourth, 132; Grandview, fifth, 159; Grove City, sixth, 182; Westland, seventh, 196; Urbana, eighth, 205; Gahanna, ninth, 209; Westerville, 10th, 217; Mt.

Vernon, 11th, 248; Bexley, 12th, 256; Whitehall, 13th, 312; Groveport, 14th, 339; Hilliard, 15th, 358; DeSales, 16th, 397.
Circleville placed fifth in the reserve meet which was won by Newark.
Tiger runners in the reserve meet were Bill Massie, Keith Stevenson, Paul Brown, Frank Plescia, J. C. Timberlake, Tom Spicing and Dwight Plum.

Cleveland Cavaliers Top Buffalo Braves

MARION, Ohio (AP) — The Cleveland Cavaliers controlled the boards and defeated the Buffalo Braves, 114-92, in a National Basketball Association exhibition game Sunday night in Marion Coliseum.
The Cavaliers out-rebounded the Braves 74-47. Buffalo led at the end of the first quarter, 24-18, but in the second period Cleveland outscored the Braves 32-19 and never lost the lead.

Phipps Gets Chance Against Bengals

CLEVELAND, Ohio (AP) — Mike Phipps, whose passing and running brought the Cleveland Browns their first 1972 victory, will get a chance to do it again next Sunday against the Cincinnati Bengals.

"Sometimes I threw it short, sometimes I was long and sometimes where I wanted to be."

His first three touchdowns covered 65 yards to Eddie Bell, 67 to John Riggins and 28 to Don Maynard, followed by three to Rich Caster involving plays of 10, 79 and 80 yards respectively.

The six touchdowns fell one short of the NFL record and the yardage—achieved on just 15 completions in 28 attempts—was third best in the league's history for one game.

In Sunday's other games, Buffalo stunned San Francisco 27-20, New England stung Atlanta 21-20, Cleveland topped Philadelphia 27-17, Dallas defeated the New York Giants 23-14, Miami mauled Houston 34-13, Minnesota mangled Detroit 34-10, Cincinnati slipped past Pittsburgh 15-10, San Diego dumped Denver 37-14, Oakland beat Green Bay 20-14, Washington swatted St. Louis 24-10 and Chicago tied Los Angeles 13-13.

In tonight's nationally televised game, the Kansas City Chiefs take on the Saints in New Orleans.

Johnny Unitas didn't exactly have a dismal day quarterbacking the Colts, despite being thrown for losses six times. He still managed to complete 26 passes, a Baltimore record, for 332 net yards, including touchdown strikes of 40 yards to Sam Havrilak and 22 to Tom Matte.

Don McCauley also scored two Colt touchdowns, one on a one-yard plunge, the other on a 93-yard kickoff return, and Jim O'Brien had field goals of 13 and 32 yards while Bobby Howfield had one of 14 yards for the Jets.

Running back Jim Braxton's second touchdown of the game with less than two minutes to go gave the Bills the points they needed to defeat the 49ers but it was O.J. Simpson and Don Croft who played the key roles.

Simpson rambled for 138 yards on 29 carries and Croft, a defensive tackle obtained last week from Baltimore, kayoed San Francisco quarterback John Brodie in the second quarter with a jarring tackle that resulted in a sprained left wrist.

Joe Hague Leads Reds Over Astros

HOUSTON (AP) — Cincinnati first baseman Joe Hague saved up his hits for a rainy day in Houston Sunday.
Hague clouted four of Cincinnati's 15 hits as the Reds' second platoon bombed the Houston Astros 10-2 in a meaningless game as far as the National League West championship race is concerned.
The Reds clinched the division crown Friday and Manager Sparky Anderson gave some of his regulars a rest in Saturday and Sunday's games.
Pete Rose stayed in the lineup and contributed three singles and three runs batted in. Dave Concepcion had a two-run single and Hal McRae clouted a two-run homer in adding fuel to the Big Red Machine.

"It was a great feeling today," said Hague, a former University of Texas star. "I haven't hit like that in three months. I haven't been playing regular and that really helped my confidence."

"We'll have the regulars back in there for the LA series," Anderson said. "I just wanted to give some of the regulars a little rest. The regulars will be in there when we play Houston next week too."

The Reds made it a blitz in the seventh on Concepcion's two-run single and run-scoring singles by Joe Morgan and Rose. McRae added his homer in the eighth.

Jack Billingham, the former Astro, got the victory for Cincy, going five innings and allowing just one hit. Pedro Borbon and Clay Carroll finished up allowing only four more hits between them.

Ken Forsch started for Houston and got the loss after pitching five innings, allowing six hits and striking out five.

Pickaway Country Ladies Fall Roundup will be held 10 a.m. Thursday at the club.
Interested parties should call Ginnie Hritz, 474-2994, for reservations by Tuesday.

Bill Bell of Atlanta was distraught after the Patriots' victory. "I just blew it," he said after missing a 10-yard field goal attempt with 28 seconds to play.

Trailing 20-7 in the fourth quarter, quarterback Jim Plunkett engineered two New England scoring drives, one ending with a touchdown pass to Randy Vataha, the other climaxed by Carl Garrett's 12-yard scoring run.

Mike Phipps, a third-year quarterback making only his second NFL start, threw for one touchdown and ran for another to lead the Browns past the Eagles. Don Cockroft booted two field goals and Bo Scott plunged over from one yard out for the Browns' other scores. Philadelphia's rookie quarterback, John Reaves, also threw for one touchdown and ran for another.

Tony Fritsch connected on three field goals, Walt Garrison plowed in from one yard out and Lance Alworth caught a two-yard touchdown pass from Craig Morton to lead the Cowboys past the Giants, who got Norm Snead-to-Rich Houston touchdown plays covering 55 and 94 yards.

"They're all No. 1 for me," Miami Coach Don Shula said after his three "first-string" running backs—Larry Csonka, Jim Kiick and Mercury Morris—ran roughshod over the Oilers for 274 yards. Kiick scored twice while Morris, Csonka and quarterback Bob Griese each scored once for the Dolphins.

Boston jumped on Detroit's Woody Fryman for four runs in the first inning and that was a good enough cushion for retread Luis Tiant, who has emerged as the ace of the Red Sox' staff.

Tiant pitched a seven-hitter and ran his record since Aug. 1 to 10-1. He is 14-5 for the season and has won 10 in a row at Fenway Park.

A two-run single by Carl Yastrzemski and Reggie Smith's two-run homer staked Tiant to the quick lead. Then Rico Petrocelli smashed a three-run homer as the Red Sox ended Fryman's five-game winning streak.

Women Now Working L.A. Sheriff's Beats

By FRANK HOTCHKISS
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In the briefing room at the East Los Angeles sheriff's station, most of the officers are joking among themselves, waiting for the sergeant to begin. In the middle is a rookie. The others are talking around the young, inexperienced officer.

The briefing begins. There are reports, and inspection will be tomorrow. Someone cracks a dirty joke.

A few of the officers laugh lightly. Not Baker. Then Officers Duffey and Baker leave for their car. Baker hauling a boxful of forms, Duffey a shotgun. Duffey tests the weapon's action expertly, easily. He handles the weapon with confidence.

Baker takes a turn practicing loading and unloading the weapon. A shell falls to the car-mat. "Oh . . ." says Baker. Hands shake slightly with exertion, concentration, anxiety.

Tough to be a rookie. Tough to be a cop. But the cards are really stacked against Baker.

Baker stands 5 feet 4 and weighs 105.

She is 25, the mother of a 6-year-old son, wife of a Los Angeles policeman and a female cop out on the streets of L.A.

"I tried being a housewife and didn't like it," she says.

Nothing new for women to be cops. But for two weeks, 12 Los Angeles County female deputies have teamed with male partners to patrol the streets of Los Angeles. The program is experimental.

Mary Baker has one year to prove her worth on the beat. She totes all the standard gear for a patrolman-gun, Mace, cuffs, everything.

But in a skirt and blouse, with her diminutive size, she cannot be as imposing as the 180-pound deputy she replaced, even though she sports a police sharpshooter medal under her badge.

Duffey speaks frankly about the program. If Mrs. Baker were not seated two feet to his right in the air-conditioned patrol car, her eyes flitting over the hot streets of East Los Angeles for signs of crime. This is not a beat where police are respected or welcomed. Blank Mexican-American faces stare sullenly as the patrol car glides by.

"I just hope when the time comes, she's 'there,'" Duffey says.

"So far, I have no reason to believe that she wouldn't be. We've had a couple of minor situations when she was there and ready to go to work when I needed her."

When asked if that isn't the case every time he starts with a rookie, Duffey admits, "Oh, that's true."

"It's just that when you're with a guy you feel that he's 160, 170, 180 pounds and he's just a little bit more muscle to take care of you in actual physical combat."

Mrs. Baker says she feels odd in her position, but "I'm enjoying my job."

"I feel really stupid, but I imagine that any rookie who starts out feels that way."

Duffey suddenly steps on the gas as a low-riding car turns at the end of the run-down block. Swinging around the corner, Duffey switches on the flashing lights at the console to his right. Baker has a pencil and pad in hand.

The young Chicago a few feet ahead drives placidly on.

"Chooses to ignore the lights," Duffey says calmly. Baker writes.

Duffey hits the siren briefly.

the car ahead turns right and glides to the curb. "No brake lights," says Duffey. Baker writes again.

Duffey slides out of his seat. Baker is out on the right, both move up on the driver, and while Duffey says hello and asks for a license. Baker watches the driver's hands, looking for a weapon.

There is none. She moves back and covers her partner. It is all routine.

The driver looks back curiously at the woman with the badge on her chest and the gun on her hip. He smiles. "If she stopped me, I'd throw a pass at her," he says. "Hey, sweet-heart!"

That is known as machismo—very important in East Los Angeles. Women have a place in that area, but they do not do certain things, and one of them is tell a man what to do. Duffey sees that as the chief difficulty for doing the job in the coming months. That could be trouble.

Looking over the patrol area, Duffey says, "Out here, it's a game, but a game with very serious consequences. You don't play to lose."

"You gotta come out on top."

Report Successful Cancer Experiments

OAK RIDGE, Tenn. (AP) — A scientist at Oak Ridge National Laboratory says a cancer treatment he has helped develop gives promise of becoming an effective cure for the disease through immunotherapy.

Dr. Michael Hanna Jr. said Friday that injection of a chemical called BCG into laboratory animals at Oak Ridge has been 100 per cent effective in eradicating cancer tumors and arresting the spread of cancer cells.

Questions Taxpayers Ask

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. Should a taxpayer contact the Internal Revenue Service to get his auto excise tax refund?
A. Generally, refunds are made to the purchaser by the auto manufacturers and importers. If you purchased an automobile between Aug. 15 and Dec. 11, 1971 and have not received your excise tax refund, contact the firm that sold you the car. However, if you were the importer of the auto, you would contact IRS directly.

Q. I purchased a $20 ticket to attend a political fund-raising party for a candidate for state office. There was dancing and refreshments at the party, but also some brief remarks by the candidate. Is the entire cost of my ticket eligible for the deduction or credit for political campaign contributions?
A. No, because the event was designed primarily to offer benefits of value to those attending. Consequently, your political contribution eligible for a credit or deduction is only the excess of the amount you paid for the ticket over the fair market value of all the benefits available to you. If the dinner or other function had been merely incidental to the essentially political nature of the event, the function would not be considered primarily a device to confer private benefits. To qualify as essentially political, the program must be primarily devoted to political speeches or discussions. In such a case, the entire cost of the ticket is eligible for the creditor deduction.

Q. I'm thinking of buying some shares of stock. Is there any tax advantage in putting the stock in my wife's name as well as my own?

A. Yes, if the dividends exceed $100. This is because the owner of stock is entitled to exclude no more than $100 in ordinary dividends from his income. But if the stock is jointly owned, the owners may receive as much as $100 each in dividends tax free, depending on the amount of each owner's share of the dividends as determined under local law.

Q. I'll be turning 65 this year. Are there any special tax benefits for Persons my age?

A. Yes. There are several benefits for those 65 years of age or over. For example, there is an extra $750 exemption for age, and special provisions covering the sale of a personal residence.

These are explained in IRS Publication 554, "Tax Benefits for Older Americans." Send a post card to your Internal Revenue district office for a free copy.

Cool, Wet Weather Prevails

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Extremely cool temperatures and rain descended on the northern half of the nation today while most of the southern portion continued to enjoy warm, summer-like weather.

Freeze warnings were in effect for the northern and western portions of the Dakotas, Northwestern Minnesota and the northern and central portions of the intermountain regions of the West.

Scattered thundershowers and thunderstorms were reported from the Great Lakes region to New England and doused the Gulf Coast and Florida.

Scattered rain and some snow fell on the Central and Northern Rockies and portions of the northern and Central Plains.

Mason City, Iowa, was soaked by nearly two inches of rain in a six-hour period while areas in Western Montana received from one to two inches of snow.

Ross County Jail Disturbance Ends; Damage $1,500

CHILLICOTHE, Ohio (AP) — Tear gas was used to quell a disturbance caused by several inmates in the Ross County Jail Sunday. There were no injuries, but police estimated property damage at $1,500.

Two closed circuit television surveillance monitors were broken, an intercom system destroyed, benches broken and pots and pans were thrown about, according to Ross County Sheriff's Deputy Scot Barnes.

Chillicothe police and the Ohio Highway Patrol assisted the sheriff's deputies in calming the prisoners, who began the disturbance about 5 p.m.

Three inmates, believed to be the ring leaders, were placed in maximum security cells after the disturbance, according to Barnes.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A branch office of the state Bureau of Criminal Identification and Investigation will be set up in the Guernsey County Courthouse Annex at Cambridge, Atty. Gen. William Brown announced Friday.

The BCI, which aids local law enforcement agencies in crime scene analysis and is headquartered at London, has other branches in operation at Richfield and Fremont.

Questions Taxpayers Ask

This column of questions and answers on federal tax matters is provided by the local office of the U.S. Internal Revenue Service and is published as a public service to taxpayers. The column answers questions most frequently asked by taxpayers.

Q. Should a taxpayer contact the Internal Revenue Service to get his auto excise tax refund?

A. Generally, refunds are made to the purchaser by the auto manufacturers and importers. If you purchased an automobile between Aug. 15 and Dec. 11, 1971 and have not received your excise tax refund, contact the firm that sold you the car. However, if you were the importer of the auto, you would contact IRS directly.

Q. I purchased a $20 ticket to attend a political fund-raising party for a candidate for state office. There was dancing and refreshments at the party, but also some brief remarks by the candidate. Is the entire cost of my ticket eligible for the deduction or credit for political campaign contributions?

A. No, because the event was designed primarily to offer benefits of value to those attending. Consequently, your political contribution eligible for a credit or deduction is only the excess of the amount you paid for the ticket over the fair market value of all the benefits available to you. If the dinner or other function had been merely incidental to the essentially political nature of the event, the function would not be considered primarily a device to confer private benefits. To qualify as essentially political, the program must be primarily devoted to political speeches or discussions. In such a case, the entire cost of the ticket is eligible for the creditor deduction.

Q. I'm thinking of buying some shares of stock. Is there any tax advantage in putting the stock in my wife's name as well as my own?

A. Yes, if the dividends exceed $100. This is because the owner of stock is entitled to exclude no more than $100 in ordinary dividends from his income. But if the stock is jointly owned, the owners may receive as much as $100 each in dividends tax free, depending on the amount of each owner's share of the dividends as determined under local law.

Q. I'll be turning 65 this year. Are there any special tax benefits for Persons my age?

A. Yes. There are several benefits for those 65 years of age or over. For example, there is an extra $750 exemption for age, and special provisions covering the sale of a personal residence.

These are explained in IRS Publication 554, "Tax Benefits for Older Americans." Send a post card to your Internal Revenue district office for a free copy.

Cool, Wet Weather Prevails

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Extremely cool temperatures and rain descended on the northern half of the nation today while most of the southern portion continued to enjoy warm, summer-like weather.

Freeze warnings were in effect for the northern and western portions of the Dakotas, Northwestern Minnesota and the northern and central portions of the intermountain regions of the West.

Scattered thundershowers and thunderstorms were reported from the Great Lakes region to New England and doused the Gulf Coast and Florida.

Scattered rain and some snow fell on the Central and Northern Rockies and portions of the northern and Central Plains.

Mason City, Iowa, was soaked by nearly two inches of rain in a six-hour period while areas in Western Montana received from one to two inches of snow.

Women Now Working L.A. Sheriff's Beats

By FRANK HOTCHKISS
Associated Press Writer

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In the briefing room at the East Los Angeles sheriff's station, most of the officers are joking among themselves, waiting for the sergeant to begin. In the middle is a rookie. The others are talking around the young, inexperienced officer.

The briefing begins. There are reports, and inspection will be tomorrow. Someone cracks a dirty joke.

A few of the officers laugh lightly. Not Baker. Then Officers Duffey and Baker leave for their car. Baker hauling a boxful of forms, Duffey a shotgun. Duffey tests the weapon's action expertly, easily. He handles the weapon with confidence.

Baker takes a turn practicing loading and unloading the weapon. A shell falls to the mat. "Oh . . ." says Baker. Hands shake slightly with exertion, concentration, anxiety.

Tough to be a rookie. Tough to be a cop. But the cards are really stacked against Baker.

Baker stands 5 feet 4 and weighs 105.

She is 26, the mother of a 6-year-old son, wife of a Los Angeles policeman and a female cop out on the streets of L.A.

"I tried being a housewife and didn't like it," she says.

Nothing new for women to be cops. But for two weeks, 12 Los Angeles County female deputies have teamed with male partners to patrol the streets of Los Angeles. The program is experimental.

Mary Baker has one year to prove her worth on the beat.

She totes all the standard gear for a patrolman-gun, Mace, cuffs, everything.

But in a skirt and blouse, with her diminutive size, she cannot be as imposing as the 180-pound deputy she replaced, even though she sports a police sharpshooter medal under her badge.

Duffey speaks frankly about the program. As if Mrs. Baker were not seated two feet to his right in the air-conditioned patrol car, her eyes flitting over the hot streets of East Los Angeles for signs of crime. This is not a beat where police are respected or welcomed. Blank Mexican-American faces stare sullenly as the patrol car glides by.

"I just hope when the time comes, she's 'there,'" Duffey says.

"So far, I have no reason to believe that she wouldn't be. We've had a couple of minor situations when she was there and ready to go to work when I needed her."

When asked if that isn't the case every time he starts with a rookie, Duffey admits, "Oh, that's true."

"It's just that when you're with a guy you feel that he's 160, 170, 180 pounds and he's just a little bit more muscle to take care of you in actual physical combat."

Mrs. Baker says she feels odd in her position, but "I'm enjoying my job."

"I feel really stupid, but I imagine that any rookie who starts out feels that way."

Duffey suddenly steps on the gas as a low-riding car turns at the end of the run-down block. Swinging around the corner, Duffey switches on the flashing lights at the console to his right. Baker has a pencil and pad in hand.

The young Chicano a few feet ahead drives placidly on.

"Chooses to ignore the lights," Duffey says calmly. Baker writes.

Duffey hits the siren briefly;

the car ahead turns right and glides to the curb. "No brake lights," says Duffey. Baker writes again.

Duffey slides out of his seat. Baker is out on the right, both move up on the driver, and while Duffey says hello and asks for a license. Baker watches the driver's hands, looking for a weapon.

There is none. She moves back and covers her partner. It is all routine.

The driver looks back curiously at the woman with the badge on her chest and the gun on her hip. He smiles. "If she stopped me, I'd throw a pass at her," he says. "Hey, sweet-heart."

That is known as machismo—very important in East Los Angeles. Women have a place in that area, but they do not do certain things, and one of them is tell a man what to do. Duffey says that as the chief difficulty for women in the coming months. That could be trouble. Looking over the patrol area, Duffey says, "Out here, it's a game, but a game with very serious consequences. You don't play to lose."

"You gotta come out on top."

Day after day, week after week, you can depend on the outstanding quality of Kroger ground meat. What's our secret? ... it's simple ...

- 1 When the label reads "GROUND BEEF ROUND" you can be sure it's ground only from the round. Our aim with fresh ground round ... 14% fat for flavor.
- 2 When the label reads "GROUND BEEF CHUCK," you can be sure it's ground only from the chuck. Our aim with fresh ground chuck ... 18% fat for flavor.
- 3 Our "Extra Lean Ground Beef" is all beef from several different cuts, freshly ground. Our aim ... 22% fat for flavor.
- 4 Our "Ground Beef," too, is made only from beef ... nothing added. With ground beef, our aim is ... 28% fat for flavor.
